

SERVER HELP

This island runs on more than rocks and regret. Quests, taxis, utilities, a scrapbook, lootable transformers, a room you can actually furnish — and none of it came with a manual. Now it does. One command opens the whole field guide.

TYPE `/HELP` IN CHAT. THAT'S IT. THAT'S THE FLYER.

MECHANICS

ONE COMMAND

`/help` opens the guide. Pick a topic on the left, read on the right, scroll when it runs long. Close it and get back to dying of cold.

ASK IN CHAT

In a hurry? `/help taxi` prints that page straight into chat — name or first few letters, either works.

TALK BACK

The `Feedback` button takes a note and puts it in the owner's box. Broken, confusing, missing — say so. It gets read.

ALWAYS CURRENT

The menu lists what's actually running on the server right now — nothing more. If a page is in there, the feature works today. No stale wiki, no guessing which commands still exist, no flyer archaeology. (This flyer excepted. Keep this flyer.)

STOP GUESSING COMMANDS

Every plugin on the island, explained where you're standing. New arrivals get a whisper about it; everyone else gets the occasional reminder. You have no excuse now.
